

RESUME

Bruce A. DiGennaro

Managing Partner

Principal Environmental Planner

---

Education: B.S. Environmental Planning and Management, University of California Davis

Experience: 20 years working with private businesses, utilities, and government agencies on a regulatory compliance and resource planning projects involving water and energy issues.

- The Essex Partnership, L.L.C. - Partner and Senior Environmental Planner. The Essex Partnership specializes in providing strategic energy and environmental consulting services. At the Partnership Mr. DiGennaro focuses on strategic regulatory planning, facilitation, and negotiations involving complex land, water, and energy resource issues.
- Kleinschmidt Associates - Owner and Senior Planner. Directed and managed large-scale water resource and energy projects throughout the country including: hydroelectric licensings and compliance plans; water supply planning and policy studies; multi-party negotiations and collaborative stakeholder processes; recreation and shoreline management planning; and ecosystem restoration planning. Conducted training workshops on National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) compliance, Applicant Prepared Environmental Assessments (APEA), facilitation and negotiation, and river restoration. Representative clients included the California Bay Delta Authority, New York Power Authority, Partnership for Narragansett Bay, Trust for Public Land, Alabama Power Company, Portland General Electric, PacifiCorp, and NRG.
- EDAW, Inc. - Senior Associate. Responsible for managing and overseeing water and energy resource policy and planning projects. Formulated testimony for State Water Resources Control Board hearings; facilitated discussions between urban, agricultural and environmental water interests regarding the Central Valley Project Improvement Act and the Bay-Delta Accord; directed planning and management studies for numerous hydroelectric project relicensings; assisted with development of water supply plans for several large urban water suppliers; prepared a strategic plan for the Sacramento Municipal Utility District, and provided policy analysis and advice to the California Urban Water Agencies.
- EA Engineering, Science and Technology, Inc. - Resource Planner. Specialized in designing and conducting recreation and natural resource management studies for hydroelectric project relicensings. Organized national conference on instream flows for recreation. Worked throughout California, the Northwest, and the Southeast. Representative clients included Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Turlock Irrigation District, Eugene Water and Electric Board, Georgia Power, and the East Bay Municipal Utility District.